

At Walmart, there are opportunities – 150,000 of them, in fact. Walmart recently announced they will be hiring 150,000 associates, and these include full-time, part-time and temporary positions in distribution centers (DCs) and fulfillment centers (FCs).

Knowing many people are eager to get back to work, Walmart has expedited hiring to get people working quickly. What does that mean for a person looking for a new opportunity with a thriving company? It means he or she can apply online, get hired and begin working in a DC or FC in as little as 24 hours.

Walmart offers benefits like advanced training through Walmart Academies, access to affordable college and, of course, competitive pay. Depending on location, DCs start between $17 and $18 per hour. FCs start anywhere between $15 and $19 per hour.
